

Avocado Hair Studio Exceeds Goal in Hair-Raising Episode of Fundraising

With April coming to an end, the Avocado Hair Studio held its shave-a-head-for-cancer day on the 22nd and raised $5,088 for cancer research.

Their goal was $5,000.

Even co-owner Lois Zaat shaved her head to gather pledges, along with Stephen Zaat of Musicstop on Cunard Street in Halifax, the RCMP Tantallon Division, employees of the Superstore and Sobeys, and Cyril Lunny from Breakfast Television.

Twila Tufts won the prize for the woman with the most pledges. She is receiving FREE her hair services for one year.

All the other women who participated received gift certificates.

The men just had to be bald.

Lois said that Avocado intends to do the same thing again next year but with a goal of $10,000.

Bald but beautiful are (L to R) Pam Jones, Twila Tufts, Rachel Clark, Chris Bennet, Amy Clark and Lois Zaat.

Cyril Lunny gets his head sheared by Dale Ensinger.

Some of the shaven: (L to R), back row is Twila Tufts, Chris Bennet, Mike Marriott, and Stephen Zaat. From (L to R) in the front row is Rachel Clark, Amy Clark and Lois Zaat.